

Above: Joseph Masters on his pony and trap in an unknown location in Wilstead. Seated next to him is his granddaughter, Doris Bennett (later Croot). Accompanying them is his daughter in law, Esther Masters, wife of son Frederick.

Left: Fred and May Bennett with daughter Doris about 1920.

Below right: Doris with her grandfather Joseph Masters and her father Fred Bennett. Doris was later to take on the Wilstead Post Office with her husband Arthur Croot. This lasted for 20 years until 1978 and then upon retirement she became involved with the Wilstead Players.
